ABOUT THE SPEAKER: CAITLIN ORR

I grew up living all around Australia but now call Sydney home. I have been blessed in that when growing up I never knew a day without Jesus but it wasn't until University that I understood what it means to have Jesus as your Lord and Saviour.

I graduated from Moore Theological College in 2014. In January, I started a new position as the assistant minister at St Peters Watsons Bay. I am still doing what I love which is evangelism and exploring ways that we can connect with our community.

My husband Lachlan works for City Bible Forum in Sydney. When I am not working or hanging with friends and family I enjoy reading, watching DVD series and listening to atrocious pop music.

WHY FRIENDSHIP?

Friendship has always fascinated me as a topic. I love my friends, I love watching movies/tv shows about friendship and I love reading about friendship.

A few years ago I looked around my parish and realised that so many people are lonely. They are looking friends but don't know how to start. It also struck me that loneliness is more dangerous to our health than smoking two packets of cigarettes a day.

This started me thinking about what does the Bible say about friendship? How, as Christians, should we be thinking about friendship? How do we respond biblically when friendship fails or friends hurt us?

I pray you leave the weekend away challenged and equipped to "do" friendship in a broken world.
